Time to move forward: Police Association

The Police Association of Tasmania welcomes the prompt resolution of code of conduct complaints against Acting Commissioner Darren Hine.

Police Association President Sergeant Randolph Wierenga said it is important for all parties to accept the outcome and move on.

“The Association called for a speedy response and we are glad that this has occurred.

“It’s time to remove politics from this important office and get on with a transparent process of appointing a new commissioner.

“Despite the upheaval of the last two years the men and women of Tasmania Police have continued to focus on ensuring the safety of Tasmanians in a professional manner,” Sergeant Wierenga said.
